St Columba's and St Peter's, Edinburgh Sixth Sunday of the Year —Year A 15—22 February 2026

- In this section of the sermon on the mount Matthew illustrates Jesus' attitude to the law.
- Jesus does not dispense with the law but asks for a deeper observance of it. Every small part of it is to remain, but only as radically interpreted by Jesus.
- His justice far surpasses the legalistic approach of the scribes and Pharisees. For the Pharisees the letter of the law was everything.
- Jesus proposes new standards of goodness for his disciples. It is not enough for them to become better Pharisees

Father Daniel writes ...

Whilst we await the return of Canon Kenneth from his retreat, and hoping to hear more of his spiritual experiences over the coming weeks, I wanted to share with you my reflection on Pope Leo's declaration of the Extraordinary Jubilee of St. Francis of Assisi (10 January 2026 – 10 January 2027).

Pope Leo XIV has proclaimed a special Jubilee Year to mark the 800th anniversary of the death of St. Francis of Assisi. This sacred year invites the Church to renew her commitment to Gospel simplicity, peace, reconciliation, and care for creation in the spirit of the "Poor Man of Assisi."

During the Jubilee, the faithful may obtain a plenary indulgence by making a pilgrimage to a Franciscan church or shrine (or any church dedicated to St Francis), receiving Confession and Holy Communion, praying for the Holy Father's intentions, and living with sincere detachment from sin. The sick and housebound may participate spiritually through prayer and offering their sufferings to God.

A special moment of grace will take place in Assisi from 22 February to 22 March 2026, when the body of St. Francis will be exposed for veneration.

To make this Jubilee spiritually memorable, consider:

- Practising concrete acts of mercy and forgiveness
- Simplifying your lifestyle in solidarity with the poor
- Caring intentionally for creation
- Praying the "Prayer of St Francis" regularly in your family
- Making a parish or personal pilgrimage during the year

May this Jubilee renew in us the joy of living the Gospel with humility, courage, and peace.

Composition and History of Matthew's Gospel:

- Attributed Author:
 - Matthew was a tax collector, one of the twelve apostles (see Matt 9:9; 10:3; Mark 3:18; Luke 6:15; Acts 1:13).
 - Although not all the apostles could read and write, tax collectors like Matthew certainly could.
 - The apostle Matthew himself may have written an early collection of Jesus' sayings in Hebrew or Aramaic, but probably not the full 28-chapter Gospel written in Greek as found in the New Testament (the "canonical Gospel").
- Actual Author:
 - An anonymous second-generation Jewish-Christian teacher used various sources (inc. Matthew's writing?) to create what we call the Gospel according to Matthew.
 - This author was a trained "scribe" (cf. Matt 13:52), very familiar with the Hebrew Bible and fluent in Hebrew, Aramaic, and Greek.
 - Just as for the other Gospels, the title "Gospel according to Matthew" was not added to the text until the second century.
- Original Readers / Intended Audience:
 - Mostly Jews who had come to believe in Jesus as the Messiah, the fulfilment of biblical prophecies.
 - Matthew teaches them more about the significance of Jesus, but without abandoning their Jewish heritage (Matt 5:17-20).
 - Matthew challenges them to put their faith into action (not just words, but also deeds).
 - Matthew's community was evidently opposed to/by the Pharisees (Jewish leaders who denied that Jesus was Messiah).
- Date of Composition:
 - For many centuries, most people thought Matthew was the oldest of the four Gospels, but most scholars today believe that Mark was first.
 - The canonical Gospel of Matthew was probably not finalized until the late 70's or 80's of the first century, although it incorporates older sources.
 - Its main sources are the Old Testament, the Gospel of Mark, the Q-Document, and other oral or written material about Jesus.
 - The final composition of Matthew was almost certainly after the destruction of the Jerusalem temple in AD 70 (see Matt 21:41; 22:7; 24:15-16)
- Place of Composition:
 - Possibly in Palestine, but more probably in or around the city of Antioch, the capital of the Roman province of Syria.
 - An influential early Christian community was there: "it was in Antioch that the disciples were first called Christians" (Acts 11:26b).
 - Early in the 2nd century already, Bishop Ignatius of Antioch (died ca. 110 AD) quotes passages from Matthew's Gospel.

A prayer for the end of the day

Grant, oh Lord, that each day before we enter the little death of sleep, we may undergo the little judgement of the past day,
so that every wrong deed may be forgiven
and every unholy thought set right.
Let nothing go down into the depths of our being which has not been forgiven and sanctified.
Then we shall be ready for our final birth into eternity,
And look forward with love and hope to standing before you,
who art both judge and saviour, holy judge and loving saviour.
Bishop Appleton
